Sponsors: Sen. Gardenhire, Todd , Rep. Howell, Dan

Summary: Makes the urban brownfield redevelopment project statute applicable to "mid-size and small counties" rather than "large and mid-size counties." Under present law, an urban brownfield redevelopment project must occur on a parcel or parcels of land located in a redevelopment zone and must either contain at least one brownfield site or contain a site of at least 10 acres that has remained vacant or substantially unoccupied for at least five years and, at any time within 20 years prior to June 1, 2011, included a manufacturing, industrial, distribution, or retail facility containing at least 1 million square feet. Allows the total amount of manufacturing, industrial, distribution, or retail facility space to be used to meet the 1 million square feet threshold. A redevelopment zone must be located in a county with a population of 80,000, or more. Adds that a redevelopment zone must also be located in a county having a population of 336,400, or less. Adds that an industrial development corporation must cease to receive allocations of sales and property tax revenue upon the maturity of the original bond or obligation used to finance the project, whose maximum amount of debt maturity must be no longer than 30 years.

Amendment
Summary:

Senate amendment 1 (005935) rewrites this bill and revises present law provisions governing redevelopment of brownfield sites in economically disadvantaged areas, as follows: (1) This amendment removes the reference to "large and mid-size counties" in the present law provision encouraging the redevelopment of large brownfield sites in economically disadvantaged areas within large and mid-size counties. Present law defines "brownfield site" as a parcel or adjacent or related parcels of real property containing at least five acres that is currently, or at any time since January 1, 2000, has been the subject of an investigation or remediation as a brownfield project under a voluntary agreement or consent order pursuant to applicable provisions of the Hazardous Waste Management Act; this amendment removes the reference to "containing at least five acres". (2) Under present law, all sales and property taxes allocated for an economic impact plan approved may only be applied by the industrial development corporation to pay expenses of the corporation in furtherance of economic development in the municipality, to pay or reimburse qualified costs, or to pay debt service on bonds or other obligations issued by the corporation to finance any of the foregoing. This amendment adds that the corporation will cease to receive allocations such allocations upon the maturity of the original bond or obligation used to finance the project, whose maximum amount of debt maturity must be no longer than 30 years. Also, this amendment redefines "qualified costs" to specifically include costs that are directly related to the investigation, remediation, or mitigation of a brownfield project located in an urban redevelopment project as required by a voluntary agreement or consent order under the applicable provisions of the Hazardous Waste Management Act. (3) Under present law, the parcels involved in an urban brownfield redevelopment project must be located in a redevelopment zone. Present law defines "redevelopment zone" as either an area designated as of January 1, 2009, as a renewal community by the federal department of housing and urban development or an area designated as of January 1, 2009, as a low income community for purposes of the federal new markets tax credits program; and the zone must also be located in a county having a population of 80,000 or more. This amendment redefines "redevelopment zone" to remove the population requirement and to include a qualified opportunity zone as a "redevelopment zone". This amendment defines "qualified opportunity zone" as census tracts identified as qualified opportunity zones as certified under the federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017. Also, under present law, an urban brownfield redevelopment project parcel or parcels of contiguous, adjacent, or related properties must total at least 100 acres; this amendment removes the 100-acre requirement.

SB699/HB676 ESTATES & TRUSTS: Tennessee Disclaimer of Property Interests Act.

Sponsors: Sen. Stevens, John , Rep. Garrett, Johnny

Summary: Enacts the "Tennessee Disclaimer of Property Interests Act," which allows a person to disclaim, in whole or part, any interest in or power over property, including a power of appointment. Permits a person to disclaim the interest or power even if its creator imposed a spendthrift provision or similar restriction on transfer or a restriction or limitation on the right to disclaim. Allows a fiduciary to disclaim, in whole or part, any interest in or power over property, including a power of appointment, whether acting in a personal or representative capacity. Also allows a fiduciary to disclaim the interest or power even if its creator imposed a spendthrift provision or similar restriction on transfer or a restriction or limitation on the right to disclaim. Specifies requirements for disclaimer to be effective. Specifies other requirements regarding disclaimer of interest in property, disclaimer of rights of survivorship in jointly held property, disclaimer of interest by trustee, and other disclaimers. Also specifies when a disclaimer can be barred or limited. (22 pp.)

Amendment Summary: House amendment 1 (006287) revises various provisions of this bill, including the following: (1) Removes this bill's requirement that a disclaimer be filed with a court having jurisdiction to appoint the personal representative; (2) Revises this bill's provisions described above in the bill summary under THIS BILL, in the second item (5), to instead add under the Uniform Trust Code that if the trustee resigns, is removed, or upon the full or partial termination of the trust, a qualified beneficiary or successor trustee may petition the court to require the trustee transferring or distributing the trust to appear before the court for a final accounting. However, a successor trustee will not have any obligation to petition the court to require the final accounting. The trustee transferring or distributing the trust may also petition the court to approve a final accounting relieving the trustee from liability for the period of its administration. This amendment also revises the final accounting period to begin from the latest of: the date of acceptance of the trusteeship by the trustee; or the end of the period since an accounting was last approved by the court; (3) Removes this bill's provision that would have added that a provision in a trust requiring the arbitration of disputes, other than disputes of the validity of all or a part of a trust between or among the beneficiaries and a fiduciary under the trust, or any combination of such person or entities, is enforceable; (4) Adds that prior to delivering the trust property within the trustee's possession to the co-trustee, successor trustee, or other person entitled to it, a trustee who has resigned or been removed will have the right and authority to petition the court for approval of its accountings and a release and discharge from all liability related to such trust as allowed under this bill; (5) Deletes the present law provision whereby a release by a beneficiary of a trustee from liability for breach of trust is invalid to the extent: it was induced by improper conduct of the trustee; or the beneficiary, at the time of the release, did not know of the beneficiary's rights or of the material facts relating to the breach. This amendment instead provides that a qualified beneficiary or trustee may petition the court for a final accounting covering a resigning or removed trustee's period of administration or the period since an accounting was last approved by the court as allowed under this bill; (6) Adds that no beneficiary, trustee, trust advisor, or trust protector may commence a proceeding against a trustee or former trustee for any matter covered by a final accounting approved by the court under this bill; and (7) Clarifies the exemption of special purpose entities under this bill from present law governing banks and revises various provisions of this bill regarding such special purpose entities, such as requiring that the entity agree to pay the department the actual expenses of the examination required under this bill. House amendment 2 (008311) deletes language within Section 2 of the original bill which established that certain refusals to accept an interest in or power over property were not a transfer, assignment, or release.

SB1393/HB1190 PROPERTY & HOUSING: Misrepresentation of a service or support animal.

Sponsors: Sen. Bell, Mike , Rep. Terry, Bryan

Summary: Creates the new Class B misdemeanor offense "misrepresentation of a service or support animal." A person commits misrepresentation of a service or support animal who knowingly: (1) Misrepresents, as a part of a request to maintain a service or support animal in residential rental property, that the person has a disability or disability-related need for the use of a service or support animal; or (2) Provides documentation to a landlord that falsely states an animal is a service or support animal. This bill authorizes a landlord who receives a request for an exception to a pet policy from a tenant or prospective tenant with a disability that is not readily apparent who requires the use of a service or support animal to ask that the individual submit reliable documentation of a disability and the disability-related need for a service or support animal. If the disability is readily apparent or known but the disability-related need for the service or support animal is not, this bill authorizes the landlord to ask the individual to submit reliable documentation of the disability-related need for a service or support animal. This bill authorizes a landlord who receives reliable documentation of a disability and/or the disability-related need for a service or support animal to authenticate the reliable documentation. If a tenant or prospective tenant fails to provide accurate, reliable documentation of a disability and/or the disability-related need for a service or support animal, after the landlord requests the reliable documentation, this bill authorizes the landlord to deny the request for an exception to the landlord's pet policy. This bill defines "service animal" to mean a dog or miniature horse that has been individually trained to work or perform tasks for an individual with a disability. This bill defines "support animal" to mean an animal selected to accompany an individual with a disability that has been prescribed or recommended by a healthcare provider to work, provide assistance, or perform tasks for the benefit of the individual with a disability, or provide emotional support that alleviates one or more identified symptoms or effects of the individual's disability. The full text of this bill defines "reliable documentation," which definition includes a list of persons and entities who are reliable sources of such documentation. Under this bill, it is material noncompliance and default by a tenant with the rental agreement, if the tenant: (1) Misrepresents that there is a disability or disability-related need for the use of a service or support animal; or (2) Provides documentation to a landlord in support of a request for an exception to a pet policy that falsely states an animal is a service or support animal. In the event of default under (1) or (2), this bill authorizes the landlord to terminate the tenancy and recover damages, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees. This bill specifies that a landlord is not liable for injuries by a person's service or support animal permitted on the premises as a reasonable accommodation to assist the person with a disability pursuant to any federal, state, or local law. Only to the extent of any conflict with federal or state law, the provisions of this bill concerning residential rental agreements do not apply to public housing units owned by a governmental entity.

Amendment
Summary:

House amendment 1 (005842) revises this bill, as follows: (1) Specifies that the offense is committed if a person "fraudulently represents," instead of "misrepresents," that the person has a disability or disability-related need for the use of a service or support animal; (2) Authorizes a landlord who receives reliable documentation of a disability and the disability related need for a service animal or support animal to "verify," instead of "authenticate," such reliable documentation and specifies that this bill does not authorize a landlord to obtain confidential or protected medical records or confidential or protected medical information concerning a tenant's or prospective tenant's disability; and (3) Extends this bill's applicability to rental agreements amended on or after July 1, 2019.
